

Key Term Crossword

Across

- Behaviors that are deemed undesirable because they offend community standards rather than directly harm people or property.
- Sexual contact that is committed without the other party's consent or with a party who is not capable of giving consent.
- A model proposed by legal scholar Herbert L. Packer to describe the public's expectation of an efficient criminal justice system.
- A form of theft in which an offender takes possessions that do not belong to him or her with the intent of keeping them.
- Breaking into and entering a structure or vehicle with intent to commit a felony or a theft.
- Any willful or malicious burning or attempt to burn a dwelling, public building, motor vehicle or aircraft, or personal property of another.
- A state or federal institution that confines people convicted of crime who are serving sentences for longer than a year.
- Sexual activity, usually sexual intercourse, that is forced on another person without his or her consent, usually under threat of harm. Also, sexual activity conducted with a person who is incapable of valid consent.
- A social institution that has the mission of controlling crime by detecting, detaining, adjudicating, and punishing and/or rehabilitating people who break the law.
- When law enforcement detains and holds a criminal suspect or suspects.
- To administer a legal process of judging and to pronounce a judgment.

Down

- The violation of the laws of a society by a person or a group of people who are subject to the laws of that society.
- A non-violent criminal offense committed during the course of business for financial gain.
- Minor criminal offense punishable by a fine

- and/or jail time for up to one year.
- The murder of three or more people in a single incident.
 - The suspension of all or part of a sentence subject to certain conditions and supervision in the community.
 - The conditional release of a prison inmate who has served part of a sentence and who remains under the court's control.
 - A model proposed by legal scholar Herbert L. Packer to describe the public's expectation of a just and fair criminal justice system.
 - Offenses committed by a corporation's officers who pursue illegal activity in the corporation's name.
 - The idea that we must look beyond the obvious to evaluate how our social location influences how we perceive society.
 - The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.
 - The rules, habits, and customs a society uses to enforce conformity to its norms. Sociological imagination—the idea that we must look beyond the obvious to evaluate how our social location influences how we perceive society.
 - Correcting the offender's behavior and giving him or her the skills and ability to survive in society without violating the law.
 - Governmental policy aimed at reducing the sale and use of illegal drugs.
 - Small-scale, person offenses such as single-victim homicide, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, and vandalism.
 - The murder of a series of victims during three or more separate events over an extended period of time.
 - The punishment that a person convicted of a criminal offense is ordered by a judge to receive.
 - The use or threat of violence against a state or other political entity in order to coerce.
 - An offense punishable by a sentence of more than a year in state or federal prison and sometimes by death.