Part II: Tonal & Melodic

Chapter 5: Diatonic Steps and Tonic Triad in the Major Scale; Simple Meters, Dotted Quarter Notes

Recognizing, translating and then transcribing aural-oral rhythm and tonal vocabulary into notation are essential skills in the dictation process. Since dictation and reading skills work hand in hand, developing dictation skills positively impacts reading skills and vice versa.

Tonal Dictation: Diatonic Steps and Tonic Triad in Major Scale

Developing Aural-Oral Translation Skills

To build aural-oral tonal vocabulary and reinforce translating skills, practice singing and labeling patterns using the three-step aural-oral process with your instructor or student partner, as well as via the MP3 files of the tonal patterns, Part II, Chapter 5, located on the companion website.

Tonal Procedure

- On the first playing/singing, write the first letter of each tonal syllable. Draw a question mark if a particular pitch cannot be determined and then move forward focusing on the ensuing pitches.
- On the second playing/singing, address the missing pitch(es).
- Translate the tonal syllables into notation by using note heads to indicate the pitches on the staff.

Melodic Dictation: Diatonic Steps and Tonic Triad in Major Scale; Simple Meters, Dotted Quarter

Melodic Shorthand Procedure

Write with one hand and quietly use a down-up motion with the other hand. Following the down-up  $(\downarrow\uparrow)$  motion of each beat can be visual and kinesthetic aids in determining the rhythm.

Write the first letter of each tonal syllable above the beat lines and mark the appropriate rhythm shorthand on the beat lines. See Part I, Chapter 3.5 for the rhythm shorthand key that corresponds to this chapter.

- First playing: focus on only the rhythm or tonal aspect, preferably your strongest element.
- Second playing: focus on the other element.
- Third playing: address missing rhythms or pitches and make any necessary adjustments.
- Transcribe the rhythm shorthand and tonal syllables into notation on the staff.

Suggested melodic shorthand symbols for Part II, Chapter 5 are illustrated below.
